Presenting Problem:

David continues to experience anxiety.

Social Support Changes:

No changes in his family or social support network have occurred.

Recent History: Client is impaired in the functional domain(s) of:

learning

working

Unemployment

client admits prior substance use

major depressive disorder

PTSD

THERAPEUTIC INTERVENTION: Client was actively listened to as he gave reason for a sudden departure from the shelter. Client was empathized with but was also reminded that reentry to the shelter would not be permitted until 6 a.m. Client was offered a jacket and offered a weather update. Client was giving guidance as to what he can do to better communicate with his partner.

Instructions were given regarding building self-esteem. Client explained that he felt sadness because his financial situation doesn't allow him to provide the amenities of life that he wants for those that he loves.

Assessment: He was appropriate in behavior. David presents as calm, minimally communicative, casually groomed, and relaxed. He exhibits speech that is normal in rate, volume, and articulation and is coherent and spontaneous. Language skills are intact. Mood presents as normal with no signs of either depression or mood elevation. Affect is appropriate, full range, and congruent with mood. There are no apparent signs of hallucinations, delusions, bizarre behaviors, or other indicators of psychotic process. Associations are intact, thinking is logical, and thought content appears appropriate. No suicidal ideas or intentions are present today. Homicidal ideas or intentions are denied.

Plan: Continue to accommodate client to the best of shelter abilities and continue to prompt client to continue participating in programming plans now being implemented by shelter staff.
